

Rhodes' One-Day Specials

GREAT VALUES IN PERIOD SUITES

Your dining room, the pride room of your home, can be easily made more than a mere place to eat if you'll get one of these new period suites.

$300 9-Piece William and Mary Suite

A graceful suite in the very popular design and finish; of excellent construction. Suite consists of 54 inch Buffet, large China Cabinet, 48-inch round Extension Table and six high back upholstered chairs. Specially priced for Thursday only—

$215

On Easy Terms.

We Are Exclusive Agents For the World Famous

HOOSIER

—the Kitchen Cabinet that saves miles of steps

No Matter What Your Needs Are Rhodes Will Save You Money

RHODES

FURNITURE CORNER MAIN AND JEFFERSON COMPANY

Our Club Plan

Makes it very easy to own a bicycle, as you make a small cash payment, then use the bicycle to earn money to pay the balance. Model L single-bar bicycle, 20-inch frame, in assorted colors, with one-piece hangar highly nicked; Diamond roller chain; MORROW BRAKE; best rubber pedals, heavy studded tires; very new-est DROP SIDE mud guards; heavy coil spring.

Bon Ton saddle; a regular $45.00 value. $39.95

NO INTEREST CHARGED ON BALANCE.

AUTO AND BICYCLE SHOP, SECOND FLOOR.

Bry's MEMPHIS, TENN.

AUTO AND BICYCLE SHOP, SECOND FLOOR.

To Stop Coughing Stop The Tickle

Hayes' Healing Honey

Stops The Tickle Heals The Throat Cures The Cough 35c per Bottle

A Free Box of Grove's O-Pen-Trade Salve Opens the Pores and Penetrates

For Head Colds, Chest Colds and Croup, is enclosed with every bottle of Hayes' Healing Honey.

You get the Cough Syrup and the Salve for one price, 35c.

Made, Recommended and Guaranteed to the Public by PARIS MEDICINE COMPANY Manufacturers of Laxative Broom Quinine Tablets and Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Extreme Weakness Yields to Nu Vim

Wonderful Iron Tonic Stopped Night Sweats and Restored Health.

Mrs. Anna Fletcher, a Philadelphia woman, whose home is at 1600 Lemon Street, was seriously alarmed by the frequency with which she had night sweats. She had had much trouble with her kidneys and bladder, until somebody told her about Nu Vim Iron Tonic. She decided she would try it, without much hope, but a few doses began to make her feel better, and by the time she had taken three bottles of it, the night sweats had all stopped and she slept peacefully all night through, while the kidneys had resumed their normal functions. This is a common story to people who follow the progress that Nu Vim is making. It seems to be especially beneficial in cases of weakness, no matter whether they manifest themselves in that particular type of trouble or in some other functional disorder. There is nothing but iron in Nu Vim Tonic is of vegetable origin, so that the stomach does not suffer in its processes and one need not worry about the rest of the body. On sale at Watson's Pharmacy, two drug stores, Gaynes Hotel and Bellevue and Linden and all drugists. If your druggist hasn't it, send $1 and a certificate to the Nu Vim Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio, and they will send you postpaid one bottle of Nu Vim.

EX-SOLDIERS FREE ON MOONLIGHT EXCURSION

On Wednesday, Oct. 23, the steamer Majestic will give a moonlight excursion out of the local harbor, leaving the wharf at 8:30 p.m. and returning shortly before midnight.

All returned soldiers, sailors and marines will be carried free of charge, according to announcement made by D. W. Wisberd, general manager of the Majestic Excursion company.

The steamer Majestic has been operating out of Kansas City on the Mississippi river, and reports a very successful season during the summer months. She leaves St. Louis Saturday and will give excursions at all the larger cities between St. Louis and New Orleans, arriving for the winter at the latter city about Nov. 5.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

SMITH SAYS HE WAS SHOT FOR NO REAL CAUSE

Suit of Negro Against Mike G. Tate, Former Sheriff and Deputies for Big Damages, Is on Trial.

Robert Smith took the witness stand in the Third circuit court Wednesday and testified to the jury his story of how he was shot when deputies under Mike G. Tate, sheriff in 1917, went to his home in search of Ben Smith, his nephew, who had mortally wounded another negro near Bartlett in a craps game.

Smith said that the men went to his house and yelled for him to come out. At the time, he declared, he was suffering from an attack of heart trouble and the excitement caused him to become almost paralyzed. He said they forced their way into his home, which is two miles north of Bartlett, and demanded to know where Ben Smith was. He told them that Ben had not been there and they then ordered him to go to the upper floor with them to search for him. The negro said he told the officers that he was too ill to go with them and they then ordered his wife to accompany them.

The witness said his wife in the meantime had laid a rifle on the bed between them and one of the men ordered them to hand over the gun. At this moment, he declared, one of the men shot him twice, one bullet going through his body and the other through his hand. From then on he said he did not remember much, but wandered from the house to the outside in his night clothes. Smith declared that he heard but two shots, the ones which entered his body and hand, and also stated that his rifle was never fired and no attempt was made to discharge it.

Dr. Chaffie, practicing physician of Brunsfield, testified that he was called to Smith's house the Tuesday following Sunday, Sept. 17, the day that Smith was shot, to treat him. He treated the negro for 11 days, morning and night, and then had him sent to the City hospital where two operations were performed to remove blood clots. The negro was in the hospital for 40 days, he said.

Dr. Chaffie said that he inspected the house and found no bullet holes that would indicate that the negro fired the high-power rifle which Smith and his wife admitted was between them when the officers entered their home.

Dr. Chaffie, contractor of Bartlett, testified that Smith constructed the house for him several years ago and furnished a drawing of the floor space.

John T. Walsh, president of the North Memphis Savings bank, who had had business dealings with Smith, testified as to his character, saying as far as he knew he bore a good reputation for quietness and was a law-abiding citizen.

A number of Bartlett citizens were called to testify as character witnesses for the plaintiff.

Just before court adjourned for the noon recess Charles M. Bryan asked Judge Pittman for peremptory instructions as to Ed. Braddley, Mike G. Tate and Bob Wilroy, on the ground that there was no evidence to prove that they fired at the negro, or was in any conspiracy to shoot the negro.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

The witness testified that they thought a mob was attacking the house and that was why they got the gun. She said that when her "old man" refused to go up stairs with the officers, pleading illness, they called on her to go and she told them that they could go anywhere they pleased. One of the officers, she said, then told her to hand him the gun, at the same time another man, a big man, shot her husband, Rob Smith, in the back.

She said she shot one of the men who was attacking her husband, but she was sitting beside him. Between them, she admitted, there was a Winchester rifle with 15 cartridges in it.

FOR AND FREE 23 Cts. 4 FOR

(Cut Out the Coupon Today and Present it to Your Grocer)

| S SWEETHEART COUPON S | |
|--|--|
| Take this coupon to your Grocer within 10 days; purchase three cakes of Sweetheart Soap for 23cts, and he will give you an extra cake free, or 4 cakes in all for 23cts. | |
| My signature below certifies that I have received one cake of Sweetheart Toilet Soap free. | |
| Name | |
| Address | |
| This offer is limited to one coupon to a family. To the Dealer: Tear off the top end of the carton (the part with the "S" in the diamond.) This coupon (with box top attached) is redeemable at 8c, providing all of above conditions have been fully complied with. Any violation of the above conditions renders this coupon VOID. Jobbers are not permitted to redeem this coupon. Coupons must be sent direct to us for redemption. We will not redeem Coupons cut out of newspapers by dealers. | |
| Manhattan Soap Co., 424 W. 38th St., New York | |
| Memphis News Scimitar, Oct. 22, 1919. | |
| MANHATTAN SOAP COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY. | |

LOCAL POST AFTER STATE LEGION MEET

Determined to bring the next state meeting of the American Legion to Memphis, a big delegation from local Post No. 1 will leave for Nashville Thursday night to attend the state convention to be held Friday and Saturday. The Chamber of Commerce has promised to co-operate with the members of the local post.

Twenty-four men have already signified their intention of going and many more are expected to follow. As the local organization is allowed 57 delegates a special car will be asked for in the event the whole delegation is filled. The Memphis post is the largest in the state.

Col. William J. Bacon, state secretary, leaves Wednesday night for Nashville to make preliminary arrangements. Veterans of the world war who are going to the convention are asked to meet at the headquarters of the War Camp Community service, 6 North Second street, Thursday night to make final arrangements for leaving on the night train that night.

The re-election of Col. Bacon to the position of state secretary is said to be a certainty.

CARPENTERS LIKE BIGGS.

O. L. Biggs, who has served the carpenters' unions of Memphis as business agent for a number of years, was honored again Tuesday night. At the business meeting of the Carpenters' District council, which represents all the locals of Memphis, Mr. Biggs was re-elected business agent.

It is the sincere hope of the Rev. Father Mahony, pastor, and P. M. Canale, director, as well as the workers themselves, that those who attend the Sunday mass will be informed of the entire amount has been raised, and that the completion of the church at an early date is an assured fact.

GEORGE CANALE OPENS NEW COMMISSION FIRM

The George Canale, new commission firm, with a capitalization of $50,000, will open for business on Oct. 28. After a complete remodeling a new warehouse will be opened at 21 South Front street. The firm will be separate from D. Canale & Co., 405 South Front street.

The new concern will make a specialty of butter, eggs, poultry, cheese, fruits and produce to the jobbing and wholesale trade only. George Canale, president and general manager is busy organizing a sales force and getting in communication with agents and producers in the surrounding territory.

It is hoped that with clear weather the home will get down to real work and the meeting Wednesday evening at the school hall is expected to show a record-breaking amount secured.

L. K. Thompson, H. P. Linder and Mrs. Leo Mielaz were given credit for $1,000 each in Tuesday's work. Mrs. Charles Hudson and Joseph Inele sent in donations of $500 each.

With few exceptions every team made its report at the Tuesday evening's meeting, and it is expected that there will be no lagging in the drive during the remainder of the week.

It is the sincere hope of the Rev. Father Mahony, pastor, and P. M. Canale, director, as well as the workers themselves, that those who attend the Sunday mass will be informed of the entire amount has been raised, and that the completion of the church at an early date is an assured fact.

The George Canale, new commission firm, with a capitalization of $50,000, will open for business on Oct. 28. After a complete remodeling a new warehouse will be opened at 21 South Front street. The firm will be separate from D. Canale & Co., 405 South Front street.

The new concern will make a specialty of butter, eggs, poultry, cheese, fruits and produce to the jobbing and wholesale trade only. George Canale, president and general manager is busy organizing a sales force and getting in communication with agents and producers in the surrounding territory.

GIRL'S ASSAILANT AT M'CRORY, ARK., ESCAPES

Frank White and J. M. Brown, operators at central police headquarters, returned Wednesday morning from McCrory, Ark., where they took bloodhounds to aid in the running down of a man who assaulted a young woman. She was attacked about 5 o'clock Tuesday night as she was on her way to her home.

Her assailant dragged her into an alley and beat her with a club. White was told, but was frightened away before accomplishing his purpose.

White's bloodhounds had some difficulty picking up the scent at the scene of the assault. Once on the trail, they followed it for about half a mile to a point where a buggy had been recently abandoned. The man had been found.

When persons reached the woman following the attack, she was unconscious as a result of the struggle and beating.

TO MAKE ICE CREAM.

JONESBORO, Ark., Oct. 22 (AP)—A new ice cream plant has been organized in Jonesboro, known as the A. J. Scott company, with capital stock of $100,000, to manufacture a cream that will satisfy the taste of the most exacting palate.

The officers are A. J. Scott, president; L. R. Ritter, vice-president; J. E. Parr, secretary-treasurer. The directors are J. H. Little, W. T. Lane Jr., A. B. Jones, J. E. McKee.

THE POPULAR TABLE DRINK POSTUM

is sold at the same fair price as before the war

This beverage is often preferred to coffee after trial for it is pure and wholesome. Better health to the coffee drinker usually follows the change from coffee to POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co. Battle Creek, Michigan.

At Grocers

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Christmas Cards and Stationery

It is our suggestion that orders for engraved Christmas cards be placed NOW.

Labor conditions are such that it will be impossible to fill all orders if left until the last minute.

Avoid being disappointed by placing your orders for Christmas stationery NOW.

This department is under the supervision of Miss Linnie Jackson, who has so efficiently served the stationery buyers of Memphis. We invite your inspection and ask that you compare our values.

Graves-Dix, Inc. JEWELERS

Gold and Silversmiths 11 N. Main St., Opp. Porter Bldg.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Graves-Dix, Inc. JEWELERS

Gold and Silversmiths 11 N. Main St., Opp. Porter Bldg.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.

Read News Scimitar Wants.